

What Near-Death Experiences Teach Us About Ourselves, Others & The Purpose of Life

By David Sunfellow

Saturday, January 30th, 10:00 AM – 12:00 Noon
The Sedona Public Library Community Room
Admission Free • Sponsored by Integral Sedona

Considered by many to be one of the best overviews on near-death experiences available, David Sunfellow will be sharing a 70-minute video called "What Near-Death Experiences Teach Us" and answering questions afterwards.

Based on over four decades of research, David's groundbreaking presentation weaves together life-changing insights from many NDErs and NDE researchers, including Dr. Jeffrey Long, Dr. Jan Holden, Amy Call, Ryan Rampton, Anita Moorjani, Rachel E., Mellen-Thomas Benedict, Anne Horn, Dr. Kenneth Ring, Reinee Pasarow, Lorna Byrne, Cami Renfrow, Wesley Ray Wyatt, Amphianda

Baskett, Howard Storm, Barbara Harris Whitfield, and Alon Anava.

David is the founder and president of NewHeavenNewEarth (NHNE), a small internet-based non-profit located in Sedona, Arizona. He currently runs the world's largest self-contained near-death experience social network. It has over 800 members from around the world, 220 of whom report having classic near-death experiences. David has taught NDE classes in Sedona, brought best-selling experiencers like Anita Moorjani to Sedona, and wrestled the core truths championed by NDEs into a system of thought and daily practice. David also runs several NDE-related websites and networks and has produced three popular YouTube videos that explore the NDE phenomenon in depth. His expertise lies in applying the core truths presented by near-death experiences to daily life.
